Question Link chief justice. Fortas, friend and adviser of President Johnson for a quarter of a century, acknowledged that since becoming a justice in 1965 he has responded to White House calls for help on critical problems.

By JOHN CHADWICK Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - The propriety of contacts between presidents and Supreme Court members has emerged as a key question in hearings on Abe Fortas' qualifications to be chief justice and even Fortas says "It could be a problem."

"I do not know what the right answer to it is," Fortas told the Senate Judiciary Committee Wednesday during the second day of testimony on his appoint. ment by President Johnson to succeed Earl Warren.

But, he added, "historically, there is a great deal of precedent."

Doubts on the matter also were raised by one of Fortas' staunchest backers on the committee, as well as by avowed opponents who hammered away at

Lengthy questioning of Fortas, with several more hours in store at today's session, has delayed the appearance of Homer Thornberry,

He also admitted under questioning that while on the beach he had called a businessmanfriend to protest a speech placing Vietnam war costs far in excess of administration estimates. He declined to say if he made the call at Johnson's urg-

"I think it is my duty to observe certain limits, and one of those limits is any conversation, either affirmance or denial, that I may have had with the President of the United States," Fortas said.

Sen. Phillip A. Hart, D. Mich., leader of the committee's liberal bloc and supporter of the appointments, said "when you get this adviser to the President business in sort of historic perspective, I think most of us would agree that Justice Fortas is restrained . . .

"But I confess I think all of us, as citizens, had the notion that contact between Presidents and justices of the court would be social only," Hart added.

Fortas, expressing his own concern, said "I think it has to be carefully looked at."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., opposed to Senate confirmation of Fortas, said "associations between Supreme Court recent years "a large part of the cases which reach the Supreme Court are cases in effect which involve the policies of the administration."

Another committee member, Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, later told reporters that Fortas' testimony was that he had attended White House conferences just to analyze the pros and cons of problems and "not to intrude his oppinion.'

"Do you believe that?" Dirksen was asked,

"Mr. Fortas is a man of honor," replied Dirksen.

Dirksen said, as Fortas had testified, that other presidents have made much greater use of Supreme Court justices. He reeled off several, beginning with George Washington.

Salary Rows Fights Last Night Disrupt Grid Camps

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Eports Writer There were some heated salary discussions, 100 degree temperatures and some important ice in action at various training camps of the pro football teams.

And, too, there was a U.S. Navy lieutenant (J.g.) who turned in an impressive per-formance in Wednesday's practices at the camps scattered across the country.

The 100-degree heat and the ice came at Carlisle, Pa., where the Washington Redskins are holding their workouts. A 78man squad sweltered through the heat and quarterback Sonny Jurgensen got the ice.

Griffin Is Noted Beater

of the Odds By RICHARD P. POWERS Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Beating the political odds seems something of a habit for Sen. Robert P. Griffin, dating back to his first election to Congress. The 44-year-old Michigan Republican displays quiet confidence that he can keep his streak alive in his latest role as an underdog—a challenge of President Johnson's two Su-preme Court nominations.

A desire to "take ward politics" out of selecting high court justices is what Griffin says motivates his drive to derail the appointment of Associate Justice Abe Fortas chief justice and federal judge Homer Thornberry as an associate justice.

Not only is the personable freshman senator bucking the President and the bulk of the Democrats in the Senate, he is up against his own party leader, Everett M. Dirksen. This usually is unbeatable opposition.

But formidable odds have been overcome before.

He was given little chance when he challenged an incumbent Republican congressman in Western Michigan 12 years

His chances of success were discounted when he sponsored a major revision of the nation's labor relations laws.

He was warned his efforts would be futile when he decided to spark a campaign to over-throw the Republican leadership in the House.

He was written off by many when, only six months after being appointed to the Senate, he was challenged in an election by a popular former governor. He won everytime, and he said in an interview about the Supreme Court fight: "I am confident now that I will pre-

By FRANK CORMIER

Associated Press Writer AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - President Johnson's summit meeting with South Vietnam's President Nguyan Van Thieu this weekend will be focused on the Southeast Asian battlefield and the preliminary peace talks in Paris.

Johnson, to be joined today by Secretary of State Dean Rusk before flying nonstop to Honolulu for the talks, is expected to spend most of his time with Thieu in private discussions on all aspects of the war.

American officials have taken pains to describe the Honolulu conference, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, as routine affairs occasioned only by the desire of the two chief executives to keep in periodic face-to-face contact.

"Summer's Outdoor Dramas

THIS IS A SCENE OF FANTASY as the stage comes alive with the historic story of America's "Lost Colony" summer nights at Manteo, N.C. The rapid growth of such theatrical enterprises centers at the University of North Carolina where the Institute of Outdoor Drama is located at Chapel Hill.

By JIM CROSSLEY

Due to their popularity they'll probably be springing up, like roast beef sandwich stands. This summer, though, a determined couple with a durable gas credit card could see all the nation's outdoor drama spectaculars in the one season.

It would be a summer well on view throughout the entire summer are 18 and three others are being presented with short runs.

Outdoor symphonic dramas the old word "pageant" is 10 considered inadequate ure an experience rather than i show. When the first chords of music soar and the brilliant ights dim the stars, it is - as nuch as we'll ever experience t — the casting of a spell.

Intense color, music, dancng and a swirling, darting tramatic movement across vast natural stages make hem unique. Though the race leads back to the Greek utdoor theaters, the medium peculiarly American.
In 1937, Paul Green wrote

The Lost Colony" for a oneummer-only presentation at fanteo, N.C. It was to comremorate the 350th anniverary of the birth of Virginia Jare, the first child of Engsh parents born in America. Such theatrical enterprises ere not unusual. What made The Lost Colony" an innovaon was the appreciative ghts finally dim. It has been in interruption during WW II. this spine - tingling system.

Summer nights on Roanoke sland, where it originally Nippon is the native name took place, an enduring New for Japan. World mystery story is related -the events surrounding the disappearance of the English settlement there between 1587 and 1590.

Since 1937, other dramas in the mold of "The Lost Colony" have been born and lived on. In general, they re-create local history or legend. They are as varied as "Cross and Sword," telling of the foundation of our oldest city, St. Augustine, Fla., "Honey in the Rock," re-creating the drama that accompanied the birth of the state of West Virginia, at Beckley, W. Va., and "Prologue to Glory" in the Lincoln country near Petersburg, Ill.

(The entire list is in an accompanying box.)

There are a number of religious dramas, notably the renowned Black Hills Passion Play at Spearfish, S. D.

One of these, oddly enough, is a must-hear for anyone interested in hi-fi music. It is the free Hill Cumorah Pageant, July 29 to Aug. 3, at Palmyra, N. Y., near Rochester, depicting the birth of the Church of the Latter Day Saints (Mormon) on the hill where it happened.

Over and above the fascinating story, the eye-dazzling presentation and the spectacular lighting is the sound. It is projected by what probably is the world's finest outdoor hi-fi system.

One of the feasts of the outublic that would not let the door drama season, hi-fiers can gobble it up and dream of n view ever since with only hearing their own tapes on

E. St. Louis Is Close to Bankruptcy

EAST ST. LOUIS, III. (AP) -East St. Louis got a credit extension Wednesday from the Mobil Oil Co., which had threatened to sell no more gasoline for city vehicles until a five-month old bill was paid.

The firm told the city it would extend credit until Aug. 1. and the city told Mobil that it could now pay $4,000 on the $16,000 bill, the funds coming from trash collection fees.

The financially beleagur city had to issue wage consignments redeemable at local banks last week because of a $60,000 payroll shortage. East St. Louis has operated in the red since 1951.

Coffee, either hot or cold, is calorie free—if you can get in the habit of drinking it without cream of sugar. You'll find it surprisingly good that way. But if you must have sweetening, then try these specialties.

cafe L'Orange is simply coffee steeped for 15 minutes with sliced orange (about 1 sliced orange for 4 measuring cups coffee), cooled, strained and poured over coffee ice cubes. Not much in the way of calories there. For sweet of calories there. ROME (AP) - American Ken Scott caused a sensation Tueseday night with a dazzling fall and winter collection that turned models into sleek beasts of the jungle.

Always the showman, the American enfant terrible of Italian haute couture billed his presentation as the Ken Scott Circus. And a circus it was with real circus acts for openers and his own wares as the climax.

The "bravos" that greeted his line were among the loudest heard in the Italian fashion shows this week-and this includes those for Valentino, the Dior of Italy.

Prettiest in the Scott collection were his gypsy clothes. But the most breathtaking was the jungle group, for which the mannequins were leopard and zebra dyed hair to match, and even elephant-ear hairdos which flapped past the shoulders.

The brilliant colors that have been largely absent from couture collections this season bright leather. The gents' version was cut in old-fashioned one-piece style and printed with Gay Nineties wrestlers.

Plastic-coated prints made up raincoats gay enough to brighten the grayest day, with jungle animal, clown and mosaic prints repeated even in rain stockings. A group of all-beaded harlequin cat suits, ostrich ruffled, were billed for at home wear but looked much too attractive to be kept there.

Gypsy ladies in full-skirted, ruffle-hemmed colorful prints with plunging decolletage, were partnered by gypsy gentlemen in slim black trousers, brilliant metallic leather boleros, madly printed full-sleeved shirts, and flat black hats.

Takes New Heart Into Bank Job

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) - Everett C. Thomas, who 10 weeks ago" received a transplanted heart, is eager to begin work shortly as a trust consultant for a Houston pank.

"The quicker I get busy, the quicker I'm going to get well," says the world's first heart recipient planning a return to employment.

Thomas, 47, of Phoenix, Ariz., will start work about Aug. 1 for the Medical Center National Bank near St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, where he underwent the transplant operation May 3.

"The heart transplant doesn't have any effect on my mind," Thomas said Tuesday, "It may slow my body down but if I can sit at a desk, do my studying and do my advising, this is Thomas, an accountant who administered a trust fund before undergoing surgery, will help the bank apply for trust powers.

"They have a need and I have a talent, and we will try to put the two together," he said.

His wife, Helen, and two of their three sons, Paul, 17, and Carl, 12, have found an apartment near the hospital. Thomas is expected to leave St. Luke's shortly before he begins work.

Their other son, Mark, 20, will remain in Arizona for college, Thomas said he wants to "be an example of what a transplant can do, to encourage people to realize that the transplant is not a strange thing.

"But it's just an interim thing," he said. "Just like you have a broken arm, You break your arm; you go back to work when it's healed."

Thomas "will not only be useful to the bank with his knowledge, but he will also be able to lead a useful life with his new heart," said bank president Willlam E. Harrell.

Two other heart recipients, Louis John Fierro of Elmont, N.Y., and George Henry De-Bord of Helotes, Tex., continue to progress at St. Luke's, a spokesman said.

Job Hunting?

American agriculture, source of America's food supply, provides nearly 12 million jobs and thousands of businesses related to food and farming, from manufacturers of farm equipment to distributors of the final product. Farmers and their families also contribute to the health of the national economy through their annual expenditure of about 40 billion dollars a year for goods and services.
